

Elyce C. Morris, JD, LLM

Title IX Coordinator – Northern Arizona University

Author of Key Legal Aspects for Higher Education Administrators in Organization and Administration in Higher Education – 3rd Edition

Elyce C. Morris has worked in higher education in dispute resolution, legal education, grievance management, and other contexts at various higher education academic institutions since 2002. She has been a law professor, in-house counsel, and administrator.

Ms. Morris earned an A.B. in English and in History from The College of William and Mary, a J.D. from the University of Southern California Gould School of Law, and an LL.M. in Dispute Resolution from Pepperdine University Caruso School of Law Straus Institute for Dispute Resolution.

She is a member of the State Bar of California and is registered on the Alabama State Court Mediator Roster.

